Dear Community Members:

We are pleased to invite you to join us as we begin our 2011 Professional Book Club here at Hopkins Middle. Our theme for this book club is Bridging Parents, Faculty, and Community.

We have selected a book that brings to the forefront an issue that is continuously facing our children and society: bullying. Please Stop Laughing at Me...One Woman's Inspirational Story, written by Jodee Blanco, is a New York Times Best Seller that takes us on a journey of Ms. Blanco's personal triumph over being bullied. She has since made it her mission to urge schools, students, parents, and administrators across the country to be more proactive in their approach to address and handle bullying.

We will read this book together using research based reading strategies that our students use daily in their classes here at Hopkins Middle. Discussions, video clips, and brief writing exercises will be infused into this book club to make it an interesting, yet, powerful learning experience. Understanding the impact of bullying will better equip all of us to help the children in our community and school respect one another and the differences that make each of them unique.

Our next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, February 22, 2011 at 6:00PM in the Hopkins Middle School Media Center. Books will be provided for you at no cost. If you have any questions, please feel free to email me at ltindal@richlandone.org or call at 803-695-3345.

Thank you for your continued support of our students, school, and community.

Educationally yours,

LaNisha C. Tindal, EdD

Please Stop Laughing At Me... One Woman's Inspirational Story

Author: Jodee Blanco

Synopsis: While other kids were daydreaming about dances, first kisses and college, Jodee Blanco was just trying to figure out how to get from homeroom to study hall without being taunted or spit upon as she walked through the halls. This powerful, unforgettable memoir chronicles how one child was shunned – and sometimes physically abused – by her classmates from elementary school through high school. It is an unflinching look at what it means to be the outcast, how even the most loving parents can get it all wrong, why schools are often unable to prevent disaster, and how bullying has been misunderstood and mishandled by the mental health community. You will be shocked, moved, and ultimately inspired by this harrowing tale of survival against insurmountable odds. This vivid story will open your eyes to the harsh realities and long-term consequences of bullying – and how all of us can make a difference in the lives of teens today.

Meet the Author: Jodee Blanco

Survivor, expert and activist Jodee Blanco is one of the country's pre-eminent voices on the subject of school bullying. She is the author of The New York Times bestseller, Please Stop Laughing At Me... One Woman's Inspirational Story. A chronicle of her years as the student outcast, the book inspired a movement inside the nation's schools and is swiftly becoming an American classic. Referred to by many as "the anti-bullying bible," it is required reading in hundreds of middle and high schools and numerous universities throughout the country.
